are available in these schools; and

(e) whether it is not a major deviation in education policy requiring debate at a larger forum?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HOME AFFAIRS (SHRI CHENNAMANENI VIDYA SAGAR RAO): (a) Yes, Sir. The New Delhi Municipal Council has introduced computer education in 23 schools run by it.

(b) to (e) "Computer Education" has been introduced as a regular subject at + 2 level in some Senior Secondary Schools where teaching is being imparted with the help of teachers appointed on ad-hoc basic pending regular appointment. The Council is also exploring the feasibility of out-sourcing of teaching for computer education as, in view of better job opportunities available in this field, it is difficult to retain qualified teachers in the schools for long. This option is already followed in the schools run by the Government of National Capital Territory of Delhi.
